Dear Sujan Khatri,

Thank you for choosing Sydney Management and Travel Academy Pty Ltd for your qualification. You have been evaluated using your Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL).

Sydney Management and Travel Academy Pty Ltd RPL Kit was used to gather the information needed for an RPL assessment in order to evaluate your application. Those applicants who want to be evaluated competently based on RPL are given the RPL kit.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is the assessment of a person's abilities or knowledge acquired through professional experience in reference to the units of competency in training programs by a competent workplace assessor. The candidate is informed about the assessment procedure before RPL. Each candidate receives specific guidance on how to establish their expertise and what types of documentation are needed to support their application. The candidate must provide sufficient information before the assessment process may begin. The assessor in this procedure is aware of the demands of each individual and will work with them to find the appropriate peers who can verify the candidate's competency.

The emphasis at Sydney Management and Travel Academy Pty Ltd is on demonstrable knowledge and abilities in addition to providing documentation. These abilities and information may have been acquired through employment, official or informal education, and general life experience. A person who wants to be acknowledged for skills and knowledge acquired in this manner must demonstrate their competence in light of performance standards set by the industry by submitting a portfolio of supporting documentation (evidence).

Below are a few examples of evidence that might be gathered:

- Curriculum vitae
- Work records
- Work samples
- Records of workplace training
- Performance appraisals
- Awards and prizes
- Correspondence you have written
- Diary notes you have made
- Job description
- Verification of duties undertaken as a member of a club or community group
- Videos/photographs of your work
- Minutes of meeting which contain information about your participation
- Organizational chart showing your position(s)
- Financial records you have maintained
- Letter of appreciation from clients
- Confirmation of relevant unpaid/volunteer experience
- Courses and qualifications, you have completed
- References detailing your responsibilities
- Answers to written or oral questions
